
ADMTA OCTOBER 2007 ANNOUNCEMENTS

Andrew Parr, PIANO RECITAL

Pianist Andrew Parr will perform a recital here at Huston-Tillotson University on Friday evening, October 5, 7:30 p.m. in King-Seabrook Chapel. Dr. Parr holds a D.M.A. in piano from Yale University and has performed throughout the United States, Europe, and Asia. He has been on the piano faculty at Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches, Texas, since 1983. The recital will include works by Beethoven, Chopin, Kelly, as well as the Schumann Fantasy.

Dr. Parr will also present a master class on Saturday morning, October 6, 10:00-12:00 noon also in our chapel. If any of you have a teenage student playing advanced repertoire interested in performing on the master class, please let me know as soon as you can. I know it is early in the academic year, so it is fine to have some “works in progress.” All performances will be on a new Steinway concert grand piano. I realize there are other activities going on that morning, but if you have time between 10:00 and noon, please come.

Admission to both events is $10. Please announce this to your studios, churches, and schools. A flyer is attached. Huston-Tillotson University is located on east 7th street at Chicon in downtown Austin just east of the Texas State Cemetery. The entrance to the university is on Chicon.

Stephen Burnaman, D.M.A.
Associate Professor of Piano
Huston-Tillotson University
900 Chicon Street
Austin, Texas 78702
512.505.3119
spburnaman@htu.edu
